SHARITABLE COOKING.

A Rew Army of Workers in the Field for the Relief of the Sick and Suffering

An association has recently been organized, un-der the peculiar title of the "New York Diet Kitchen," which proposes to accomplish a some-what higher mission than the indiscriminate 'slinging' of pots and kettles. Among the greatest drawbacks to the convalescence of the sick poor of the city is the impossibility of procuring suitable articles of diet skilfully prepared. The sick, but those whom an empty purse compel to apply for medicine at these places are not likely to have a well-stocked larder or the most excellent appliances for cooking.

By the establishment of kitchens in all the exist of competent cooks, every case of combined sickness and destitution may be reached, and the condition of the sufferers ameliorated. The very young especially fall a prey to ignorance or poverty on the part of their parents, and it is designed to supply whatever food the physician may specify. That whatever food the physician may specify. That there is urgent necessity for this wholesome work the physicians of the Demilit, the New York and the Eastern, Northern and Northwestern dispensaries, all unite in claiming, while Doctors Hamilton, Draper, Van Buren, Parker, Jacobl, Sands and a host of others heartily endorse the project.

The association is organized with Mrs. A. H. Gibbons as President, Mrs. Robert Hoe as Vice President. Mr. Charles L. Tidany and Mrs. J. Langdon Ward as Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer and Mrs. Edmund Whitmore as Secretary. The Board of Managers include, in addition to the above ladies, Mrs. William G. Choate, Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Mrs. Bart Brown, Mrs. George H. Hepworth, Mrs. C. Howland and numerous others. An advisory committee, consisting of the husbands of these and other ladies, with a sprinkling of physicians, is also formed, and they request that all moneys donated to the purposes of the association may be sent to Mr. Charles L. Tidany, Union Square and Fliteenth street.
